THE UNIVERSITY OF GUAM SOLICITS APPLICATIONS TO ESTABLISH A LIST OF ELIGIBLES FOR THE FOLLOWING POSITION (TENURE/NON-TENURE TRACK APPOINTMENT, FULL-TIME, SUBJECT TO THE AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS):

#051-24 ASSISTANT PROFESSOR (CRUSTACEAN BIOLOGY)

Location:	Research and Sponsored Programs/Marine Laboratory
University Information:	The University of Guam is the premier institution of higher education in the Western Pacific. It is a land-grant, a sea-grant, and a space-grant institution, accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges Senior Commission. Located in the village of Mangilao on the island of Guam, the campus overlooks the beautiful Pago Bay and the University's world-class Marine Laboratory and Water and Environmental Research Institute of the Western Pacific. The University has 3,400 students, 47% of Asian ethnicity and 45% of Pacific Islander ancestry, providing a uniquely diverse campus and multicultural atmosphere. As a regional, comprehensive, open-admissions institution, the University awards degrees at the certificate, baccalaureate, and master's levels through its two colleges and four professional schools. The institution's mission of Ina (to Enlighten), Diskubre (to Discover), Setbe (to Service) serve as the foundation for the institution's Para Hulo' strategic plan, with its vision to transform lives and advance communities as a land-grant, a sea-grant, and a space-grant university. One of the university's key strategic initiatives is to be recognized as a research university centered in Island Wisdom. Island Wisdom acknowledges that Pacific ways of knowing and Western models of higher education are central to the institution's teaching, research, and service endeavors, and that balanced consideration of the ideas that emerge from them is essential to the prosperity and sustainability of island communities. Through its robust research portfolio fueled by extramural funding from competitive grants and contracts, the University delivers public value through dedicated and capable administration, faculty, students, and staff. As a complement to the research carried out at the institution, the University of Guam has an active press dedicated to publishing research and writing about Guam and Micronesia. A variety of publishing opportunities are available to UOG faculty, employees, students, and members of the communities we serve through the University of Guam Press. UOG is a safe and secure campus, where the institution places paramount importance on the physical, intellectual, emotion, and spiritual wellbeing of its students and employees. It fosters open dialogue and collegiality based upon mutual respect for diverse perspectives. The university has enacted processes to ensure the physical safety of the campus (most recent information may be accessed at https://www.uog.edu/life-at-uog/safety-security) and a policy that encourages open dialogue and respect for all points of view. Community responsive academic programs, robust research agenda, ample publishing opportunities, and commitment to community make the University of Guam an exciting place to be for many years to come.
General Description:	The University of Guam is looking for an individual who is interested in new challenges and opportunities for professional and personal growth. This position calls for someone who is self-motivated and adaptable, intelligent, possesses a global vision and who is interested in working in a dynamic, multicultural institution.
Unit Description:	The University of Guam Marine Laboratory (UOGML) was founded in 1970 and serves as a major institution for marine science research in the Western Pacific and Micronesia. UOGML has a strong track record in basic and applied research in ecology, taxonomy, fisheries, and monitoring of coastal ecosystems. Recent research initiatives have expanded UOGML's capacities in marine genomics and coastal oceanography, with an emphasis on land-sea connections, coastal development, and sustainability in the age of climate change. The UOGML is uniquely positioned to pursue the above agenda given its close proximity to some of the most diverse and unique marine environments in the world.
Character of Duties:	The Marine Laboratory at the University of Guam (UOG) seeks an Assistant Professor with expertise in crustacean taxonomy, systematics, ecology, and/or biogeography who will use a combination of molecular and morphological techniques to address these research topics. We anticipate that the crustacean biologist will expand the Marine Laboratory's expertise and research of regional relevance by investigating patterns of crustacean diversity and distributions to enable a better understanding of relationships within and between taxonomic groups, test hypotheses regarding these relationships within a systematics and biogeographical framework. The UOG Marine Laboratory is ideally located for ready access to field sites for sample collection, access to molecular genetics laboratory spaces, microscopy (including scanning electron microscopy), and laboratory space for morphological investigations. Access to computational resources for data analyses are available on campus. Through recent investments by the National Science Foundation, a biorepository was established at UOG that provides support for collections-based research. It is expected that the successful candidate will leverage the resources at the Marine Laboratory to develop an extramurally funded research program and contribute to a collaborative and collegial work environment. The successful candidate is expected to contribute to the UOG Master of Science (MS) Program in Biology by mentoring graduate students and providing outstanding classroom instruction in Invertebrate Biology. In addition, the Crustacean Biologist will provide service to the Marine Laboratory, MS Biology program, University, and the broader Guam community..
Qualifications:	Minimum: Ph.D. in Invertebrate Zoology or a related field from a U.S. regionally accredited institution or foreign equivalent with specialization in Crustaceans. Expertise in comparative morphology, phylogenetic systematics, and specimen curation. Must possess a strong record of research and grantsmanship commensurate with years of experience, as evidenced by recent grants and refereed publications in scientific journals. Post-doctoral experience in relevant research area.. Must be willing to teach online. Preferred: Expertise in natural history collections management. Experience working and teaching in online learning programs.
Salary Level:	Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience relevant to the position. The following salary figures are for nine (9) months:

Assistant Professor $47,368 - $96,218 Per Academic Year

Work Eligibility:

Submission of completed job applications authorizes the University of Guam to seek and obtain information regarding the applicant's suitability for employment. All factors which are job related may be investigated (i.e., previous employment, educational credentials, and criminal records). All information obtained may be used to determine the applicant's eligibility for employment in accordance with equal employment opportunity guidelines. In addition, the applicant releases previous employers and job-related sources from legal liability for the information provided.

Should an applicant be convicted of any crimes other than a minor traffic violation, all applicable information must be provided in the form of a police clearance report and court clearance report. Failure to admit any felony convictions may result in immediate disqualification or disciplinary action.

Section 25103, Chapter 25, Title 10 of the Guam Code Annotated requires college or university employees to undergo a physical examination, to include a test for tuberculosis (skin or x-ray), prior to employment and at least annually thereafter. A report of such examination must be conducted by a licensed physician within a state or territory of the United States and must be submitted upon request.

Federal law requires presentation of eligibility to work in the United States within seventy-two (72) hours of reporting for employment. Specifically, 8 USC 1324A requires the employer to verify the identity and eligibility to work in the United States of all newly hired employees. The University of Guam is required to comply with this law on a non-discriminatory basis. If you are hired to fill a position with the University of Guam, you will be required to present valid documents to comply with this law.

The University of Guam is an equal opportunity employer and provider.

The University of Guam complies with Public Law 24-109 in reference to the provisions and requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act. Assistance in EEO/ADA matters and inquiries concerning the application of Title IX and its implementing regulations may be referred to the University's Director, EEO and Title IX/ADA Coordinator, located at the EEO/ADA and Title IX Office, Dorm II, Iya Hami Hall, Room 104, Telephone No. (671) 735-2244; TTY (671) 735-2243; or to the Office of Civil Rights (OCR).
