

help us choose future books

With the start of a new academic year UOG Press continues to receive manuscripts for publication consideration. To cater to the volume of submissions we receive, we are seeking experts to read and provide a simple review of both academic and creative manuscripts. Texts may range from poetry, novels, academic texts, and children's literature, and are written in English and sometimes CHamoru.

All manuscripts will be part of a blind review process. Reviewers will not be identified to the authors, and all author names will be removed from manuscripts prior to being submitted to the review committee. This ensures all reviews are fair and based solely on the merit of the writing and its readiness for publication.

Reviewers will be compensated with store credit applicable to UOG Press publications and may apply their service to promotion packets and/or curriculum vitae.

If you are interested in reviewing books for UOG Press kindly send an email to uogpress@triton.uog.edu with the following information:

1. Full name
2. Relevant experience/background, including current and previous professional jobs
3. Your areas of expertise as a scholar, teacher, writer, reader, and/or book lover
4. The types of books you are interested in reviewing
5. If you are familiar with languages other than English, please specify the languages and your level of proficiency
6. Any recommendations you may have for other people you know who may also be interested in providing book reviews.
7. Email Address
8. Phone Number(s)

Kindly email uogpress@triton.uog.edu by no later than Monday, August 31, 2021.

The University of Guam Press publishes an array of academic and literary books and journals with a specific focus on the unique history, environment, peoples, cultures, and languages of the Western Pacific region. UOG Press strives to increase the availability of exceptional scholarly and literary texts that can be used as learning resources about Guam and Micronesia for people and institutions in the region and throughout the world. For more information, please visit our website: www.uog.edu/uogpress.

