UOG School of Business and Public Administration accepting applications for Pedro “Doc” Sanchez Professional Scholarship

The University of Guam’s School of Business and Public Administration announces the opening of applications for the Pedro “Doc” Sanchez Professional Scholarship for career employees of the Government of Guam who plan on enrolling in the 2023 Fanuchånan (Fall) Semester.

Enacted in 1988 as Public Law 19-45, the scholarship has supported career employees in their pursuit of a higher education degree in Public Administration or other fields under SBPA.

There will be six scholarships for undergraduate students and six graduate scholarships for this announcement cycle.

The scholarship is in tribute to Sanchez, who was an educator, a historian, and public administrator who promoted the importance and value of an educated government workforce.

The deadline to apply is 5 p.m., July 14, 2023.

An applicant must submit:

- A completed application form
- A typewritten essay
- A letter of recommendation signed by a government, education, or community leader, preferably from someone who has direct knowledge of an applicant’s work and academic capabilities as an employee within GovGuam.
- A letter of recommendation from the applicant’s supervisor or director of a department or agency.

- Transcripts
- Verification of Employment

Applications can be submitted at:

The University of Guam School of Business and Public Administration Dean's Office or electronically at uogsbpa.com/docsanchez
