I. Course Description

1. Catalog Description

This course introduces students to public speaking and person-to-person communication, as well as to group and intercultural communication. Students learn about basic speech preparation and delivery, as well as effective communication skills suited to the people with whom they interact in a variety of everyday contexts. Oral presentations may include demonstrative, informative, and/or persuasive speeches of 6-8 minutes in length. CO 210 must be completed with a grade of “C” or better. Grades are A, B, C, D, F, I, or NC. Prerequisite: Completion of EN 110 or test out.

2. Course Content

This course is a survey of Speech Communication theories, concepts, and skills existing in interpersonal, intercultural, small group, and organizational interaction, as well as in oral public presentations. This course offers a combination of humanistic and pragmatic approaches to understanding and evaluating communication. An emphasis is placed on developing skills in public communication, including speech preparation and listening.

NC: Student’s work does not evidence competency of the Learning Outcomes. The student must retake CO 210.

UW: Unofficial withdrawal assigned by Registrar—Student stopped attending classes and did not submit/file required documents.

W: Withdrawal assigned by Registrar—Student stopped attending classes and submits/files required documents.

3) Description Course Assignments and Calculation of Assignment Scores

Students earn points by attending class, participating during lecture-discussion classes, completing and submitting all assignments, completing assessments, and producing a course portfolio. In the section below the number of points for each course activity are described.

The class will combine various modes of learning and instruction, which will be interconnected and evaluated. Students will be graded concurrently and formally. Effective course competence entails knowledge of content (tests) and as students are being graded for speaking (presentations) others are being graded for listening (evaluation) and active listening (attendance and quality participation). In-turn responses and assignments should exhibit a progression of such thought (papers) and further research outside of class. In the section below the number of points for each course activity are described.

Midterm Test –10 points

Final Test - 10 points

Homework assignment 1 – 10 points

Homework assignment 2 - 10 points

Research paper – 10 points

Introduction and Informative Speech with outline – 15 points

Persuasive Speech with outline – 15 points

Peer Evaluation 1 - 5 points

Peer Evaluation 2 - 5 points

Class Participation and attendance - 10 points

1-3 absences 100 points

3-6 absences 90-70 points

7-9 absences 69-50 points

-10 absences 39-0 points (potential fail)

Total points: 100

Potential for bonus points (up to 10 points): special creativity, peer support, extra assignments agreed on during the course.

Note: Students can choose if they want their lowest graded assignment to be dropped when calculating the final grade.

IV. Course and Program Policies

1. Assignment Submission Policy

Assignments are generally due on the day stated by the instructor at 8 am, unless noted otherwise. Late assignments will be penalized by 20 % point deduction if submitted within a week. Assignments will not be accepted later than a week behind the due date.

2. Attendance Policy

As members of a learning community instructors and students agree to a tacit social contract. That contract ensures that all participants will attend every class meeting, engage one another in an informed and spirited manner, and complete all assigned responsibilities on time. When you signed up for this course, attendance, and participation became two of your assigned responsibilities. Like any other assignment you will be awarded points for meeting that responsibility. Attendance is particularly critical during speech days as the class is expected to provide a supportive audience for all the speakers. More than 3 absences will adversely affect your final grade. Remember that the reason for missing class does not change the fact of your absence. It is also your responsibility to be on time to class, three late arrivals result in one absence. Please avoid arriving more than 15 minutes late to class, anything after will be considered an absence and should be avoided.

3. Make-Up Assignments Policy

When a student is absent or anticipates a future absence, the student must inform the instructor immediately. Students should inform the instructor via email about their absence and its cause, and request to make-up missed assignments or in-class CO 210 Course Syllabus. This syllabus and course calendar may be revised to accommodate student progress. Changes will be announced in class, via email, or the Moodle course page (if applicable). assessments. When a student is absent for lecture-discussion sessions, students should retrieve lesson and assignment information from peers. Seek the instructor for assistance to clarify information from peers. If the instructor approves a make-up session, especially for assessment purposes, students are reminded to attend any scheduled make-up session. Students should show up on the agreed date, time, and place.

4. Withdrawal Policy

If a student elects to withdraw from the course, the student must do so before the university's voluntary withdrawal deadline (see UOG's undergraduate catalog). If a student electing to withdraw from the course is required by the registrar's office to complete the "Petition to Withdraw" form, then the deadline to withdraw from this course had passed. The course withdrawal deadline is the same deadline as the university's voluntary withdrawal deadline.

V. University Policies and Student Services

1. ADA Policy and Commitment to Student Learning

If you are a student with a disability who will require an accommodation(s) to participate in this course, please contact me or the Institutional Compliance Officer privately to discuss your specific needs. You will need to provide me with documentation concerning your need for accommodation(s) from the EEO/ADA & TITLE IX Office. If you have not registered with the EEO/ADA & TITLE IX Office, you should do so immediately at 735-2244, (TTY) 735-2243 to coordinate your accommodation request.

2. Plagiarism Policy

The University of Guam defines plagiarism in the Student Code of Conduct as follows: "The term 'plagiarism' includes, but is not limited to the use, by paraphrase or direct quotation, of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment. It also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials." Plagiarism is a serious academic offense. As such, any student found to have committed an act of plagiarism in an CO 210 course will, at the very least, fail the assignment.

Multiple offenses, if discovered, may be referred to the Student Discipline and Appeals Committee for more severe consequences.

3. If you are a student with a disability who will require an accommodation(s) to participate in this course, please contact the Disability Support Services office to discuss your specific accommodation needs confidentially. You will need to provide me with a Faculty Notification letter from the DSS counselor. If you are not registered, you should do so immediately at the Student Center, Rotunda office #6, ph/TTY: 735-2460, or uogdss@triton.uog.edu to coordinate your accommodation request.
