SOCIETY OF EMERITUS PROFESSORS
AND RETIRED SCHOLARS

Society of Emeritus Professors
& Retired Scholars
Twenty-first Annual Report 2019

Compiled by
Cynthia B. Sajnovsky, Professor Emerita of Music, SEPRS Secretary

Memorandum

TO: Mr. Elvin Y. Chiang, Chairperson, Board of Regents
Dr. Thomas Krise, President
Dr. Anita Borja Enriquez, Provost
Subject: The Society's Twenty-Third Annual Report (2019)

Members of the Society of emeritus Professors and Retired Scholars (SEPRS) have engaged in numerous academics, research, and service activities this past year. These professional, community and volunteer service endeavors demonstrate how emeritus faculty continue to help the University achieve its mission for our island, the region, and elsewhere throughout the world.

This report reflects that SEPRS members residing both on as well as off-island continue to show a great commitment to support the University of Guam. Members this past year were active in teaching, conducting research and offering service to the University and the Guam community at large. Through the cooperation of the Faculty Senate, the Administrative Council, Administration and the Board of Regents, the Emeritus designation procedures was amended as recommended by SEPRS. The change should encourage more long-term retired faculty and administration as members of the society to support the growth of UOG. For this, cooperative effort we are most grateful.

The Society has endowed the SEPRS scholarship, funded by contributions from our membership and administered through the UOG Endowment Foundation. Three scholarships of $1,000.00 each will be awarded in April 25, 2020. In addition to the SEPRS scholarship, members have established their own individual scholarship with the UOG Endowment Foundation.

Donations to the University of Guam during 2019 totaled $20,420.00. Of this giving $3,220.00 was dedicated to the SEPRS scholarship program.

The SEPRS leadership continues to encourage attendance at UOG commencement exercises and Charter Day programs. Attached is our annual report listing the work of the Society members.

Thank you for your continued support and attention.

Twenty-Third Annual Report of the Society of Emeritus Professors & Retired Scholars (SEPRS)

Contents of the 2019 Annual Report

REPORT ON THE SOCIETY

A. MEMBERSHIP

1. The Board of Regents awarded Emeritus status to Professors Helen Whippy, Donald Platt and Heidi San Nicolas. Dr. O. Randal Braman was the sole known deceased member. Emeritus Braman was originally awarded Emeritus status in 1991.

B. VOLUNTEER ACTIVITY

1. The Emeritus Society continued to encourage members to serve as volunteer student career mentors, teach courses, conduct research and serve the university on committees.

2. Two Society members served as UOG career mentors under a program administered by the university of Portland, Oregon.

C. EMERITUS NOMINATING PROCESS

1. The Emeritus Society continued to work in collaboration with the university Faculty Senate and the administration to revise the Board of Regents policy for awarding Emeritus status for retiring faculty and administrators. The Emeritus Society is grateful to the Board Of Regents for approving the recommended revised policy.

D. FUNDRAISING

1. Twenty (20) members of the Society of Emeritus Professors and Retired Scholars generously contributed a total of $20,420.00 to the Emeritus scholarship account and other university programs. Of this amount $3,220.00 was designated for scholarships. Of the 20 Emeritus members who made donations 13 reside in Guam and 7 in the States.

E. SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

1. The second awarding of SEPRS scholarships took place during 2019. Three UOG students were each awarded $1,000.00 for the 2019-2020 school year. The recipients were Heather Ann Garrido (Sociology/ Psychology), Gabriele Keh Gonzaga (Pre-Nursing), and Jinna Soriano (Agriculture).

2. A very successful award ceremony, chaired by Society member Dr. Lou Klitzkie, was held during April at the Hilton Guam Resort and Spa. Among the 96 attendees were the scholarship recipients, family members, friends, members of the Board of Regents, university faculty and administrators as well as members of the Society of Emeritus Professors and Retired Scholars.

The University of Guam Society of Emeritus Professors and Retired Scholars (SEPRS) held its 2nd Annual Scholarship Award Ceremony on Saturday, April 27 at the Hilton Guam Resort & Spa. Three UOG students were awarded $1,000 scholarships for the upcoming academic year: Heather Ann Garrido (Sociology/Psychology), Gabrielle Keh Gonzaga (Pre-Nursing), and Jianna Soriano (Agriculture). The scholarships were funded through donations from the members of the Emeritus Society.

The Society of Emeritus Professors and Retired Scholars is composed of former outstanding University of Guam faculty and administrators who continue to serve the University and island community in the areas of teaching, research, and public service. Emeritus Hall is located adjacent to the Micronesian Area Research Center.

ACADEMIC CONTRIBUTIONS:

TEACHING

Biology 310 – Environmental Issues: Climate Change in Cinema, Department of Biology, University of Hawaii at Manoa, Spring 2019, co-instructor with Mark Hixon. This was a seminar course in which we compared presentation techniques of movies that warned of risks of anthropogenic climate change with movies from think tanks that attempted to refute that climate change was real or influenced by humans.

I also gave the following guest lectures in other courses or events:

2019 January 11– lectured to Biology 410 (Corals and Coral Reefs) on “Geology of coral reefs” for Cindy Hunter

2019 January 14 – lectured to Biology 410 (Corals and Coral Reefs) on “The future of corals and coral reefs with changes in climate and ocean chemistry as predicted by the past” for Cindy Hunter

2019 January 30 – lectured to Biology 410 (Corals and Coral Reefs) on “Effects of terrestrial runoff of sediments and nutrients on coral reefs” for Cindy Hunter

2019 February 20 – gave an invited talk entitled “Working with, not against, coral-reef fisheries” at the International Symposium Fostering Innovative and Developing Partnership for Blue Economy

2019 March 13 – lectured to Biology 410 (Corals and Coral Reefs) on “Working with, not against, coral-reef fisheries” for Cindy Hunter

2019 September 18 – gave an invited talk to National Marine Fisheries Service (in NOAA) at their auditorium “Working with, not against, reef fisheries”

RESEARCH, PROFESSIONAL SCHOLARSHIP AND CREATIVE ENDEAVORS:

For research, I surveyed changes in coral reefs over a period of 15 years at several sites in the Solomon Islands.

SERVICE:

A. Professional service

I served on a NOAA committee to assess Fish Stock Climate Vulnerability for 83 species in the tropical Pacific or Pacific Islands Vulnerability Assessment of marine life to climate change in the Pacific region

I participated as a member of a Scientific Peer Review Group to help the State of Hawaii Division of Aquatic Resources identify priority areas for effective management of 30% of the nearshore waters of Hawaii by 2030 (the “30 X 30” initiative”) and identifying effective areas for management using MARXAN..

I reviewed a total of 8 manuscripts for the peer-reviewed journals Marine Ecology Progress Series, Ecological Monographs, Royal Society Biological Letters, and The Scientific Naturalist. I also reviewed a grant proposal for the National Science Foundation. 2019 August

I am an active member of the Fishery Local Action Strategy Hawaii (FLASH) committee (Division of Aquatic Resources, State of Hawaii, and NOAA)

I am an active member of Scientists and Fishers Exchange (SAFE) organization, also Division of Aquatic Resources, State of Hawaii

B. Service to the University

I served as external reviewer for PhD dissertation of Eva Maire (January 2019) Socio ecological drivers of fish biomass on coral reefs: the importance of accessibility, protection and key species for James Cook University

I served as a member of the MSc Thesis Committee for Trevor Johannsen Dramatic increases in the mushroom coral Lobactis scutaria population in Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii, over the last 18 years 44 p.

I served as an Affiliate Faculty member in the Graduate Program of the Department of Biology and in Ecology, Evolution, and Conservation Biology

C. Service to the Public

I gave a public talk entitled “Alternative Realities in our Brave New World” to Nerd Nite Honolulu 6 August 2019

Paul Callaghan, Ph.D.
Professor Emeritus of Economics

The other day I tried to attend the SEPRS meeting via internet, but the picture and sound were garbled at my end. Please convey my Holiday greetings and best wishes to all SEPRS members. I live in Chester, a small mountain town in northern California, pop. 1800, so internet reception is often spotty here. The high point of my day in Chester is walking, through the snow in the winter, to the post office (no home delivery). At the post office one can spend ten minutes reading the bulletin board to find out who has recently died and what group is having the next bake-sale, movies on Wednesday nights at the Veterans Hall. Depending on my arrival timing I might encounter one of the town's two or three other liberals for a hand wringing discussion of national politics or world problems. Conservative minded people in Chester (and that's most everyone) pay little attention to the nation or the world. But, they are quite conscientious about flying the American Flag and voting for Trump.

As to the SEPRS annual report I am afraid I don't have much to contribute this year. I have completed my four-year term as Chair of the Finance and Administration Committee of the Western and Central Pacific Fisheries Commission. I have retired from my consulting tasks at the Western Pacific Fishery Management Council in Honolulu, although they still maintain an office for me and the title Chair Emeritus. I do still maintain an apartment in Honolulu, which I occupy when I am in the mood to leave the cold and quiet in Chester. I continue to work on my memoir, but don't hold your breath in expectation of a quick publication. Most likely the readership will be quite small, and I'm having so much fun writing it, that I might just never stop.

Filomena M. Cantoria, DBA
Professor Emerita of Accounting

RESEARCH, PROFESSIONAL SCHOLARSHIP AND CREATIVE ENDEAVORS:

I researched and presented a paper on “Environmental Challenges in Power Generation in Guam” for the Electric Utilities and Environment Conference (EUEC) held in San Diego, California, February 18-21, 2019.

SERVICE:

My service to the community is serving as Commissioner of the Guam Public Utilities Commission (PUC), completing my third term (serving for 20 years) in October 2019.

My service to the University of Guam is serving as the Treasurer of SEPRS for the second year.

Lobban One-Name Study: Origin and diaspora of the Scottish name Lobban/Loban.

<https://lobban.one-name.net> This is an ongoing project under the auspices of the Guild of One-Name Studies and provides information to the worldwide family free of charge as a community service. I have several major contributors, of whom the most important supplied a thorough set of family trees based on documents. I am the web master and analyzed the set of family trees to explore the diaspora of the family from Scotland, to map the family trees onto a parish map to show the historical distribution of the family branches and to format and annotate “left-to-right” charts of family trees (similar to phylogenetic trees in biology) to show the structure of the family branches. I have obtained Y-DNA analysis from 12 people – many tests paid by myself (ca. $3,000) as a “proof of concept” – to connect the branches that do not quite meet in the written records, with the support of an expert on the R-U198 branch of the human tree (Y-DNA traces the fatherline in a family tree and extends back far into the past because the Y-chromosome is passed intact from father to son). This research has been very successful so far and is continuing with a few more analyses to link the remaining groups together. In September I published a status report summarizing the achievements over the previous 12 months at https://lobban.one-name.net/?page_id=2050. We recently had a brief write-up in a Scottish newspaper: <https://www.pressandjournal.co.uk/fp/news/aberdeen/1896312/scottish-lobbans-invited-to-take-part-in-genetic-detective-work/>

Joyce K. McCauley, Ph.D.
Professor Emerita of Reading Specialization

This was the year of writing the application for the Carnegie Foundation's Community Engagement Classification, an elective designation that indicates institutional commitment to community engagement. Hundreds of universities nationwide apply, but few are chosen. I wrote the application for 2010 (and we were awarded the classification for 10 years), and so now, this is the reapplication, with MUCH higher standards. All this is to say, this has been my focus this year. Word from Carnegie should be out soon. I'm holding my breath.

PHILANTHROPY:

- A. To UOG. My husband and I contributed to the University of Guam.
- B. To other academic institutions. My husband and I contributed to the Catholic University of America and University of Pittsburgh.
- C. Charitable organizations My husband and I contribute to a wide range of charitable organizations including Santa Rita Parish in Santa Rita Guam, the National Shrine of the United States, Wounded Warriors Project, St. Jude Hospital, Christian Appalachian Project, and the Sacred Heart Society. We also contributed to two different Lions Club Chapters on Guam.

AWARDS, SPECIAL RECOGNITIONS:

Our Center was awarded resolutions from the former US Congresswoman Bordallo, the former Governor Calvo, and the previous Guam Legislature upon our 25th Anniversary as a Center of Excellence. I personally was awarded a resolution from the Guam Legislature upon my retirement from UOG on September 30, 2019. I was also awarded resolutions and plaques/gifts from the President of UOG, the Senior Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs, from the Administrative Council, from the Office of Sponsored Programs and Research, and from CEDDERS. In November, 2019, the Board of Regents voted unanimously in favor of my nomination to the Society of Emeritus Professors and Retired Scholars as Professor Emerita and Director Emerita.

Please note, as per the BOR minutes, I was approved by the Board of Regents in November, 2019 as Professor and Director Emerita. I have yet to formally receive any communication from the University to this effect. I was contacted by the Society of Emeritus Professors to donate funds for a plaque. I sent a check in December. I was also contacted by the Society to provide a report I that I have prepared such purpose.

SVP Anita, thank you again for hosting the very gracious retirement luncheon attended by so many on September 30th. It was truly an honor to be recognized by the Guam Legislature, the UOG President, yourself, the Administrative Council, ORSP, my unit, CEDDERS, and all those who attended. The gifts, certificates, resolutions, watercolor artwork, carvings and weavings were beautiful and a testament to the strong sense of community and collaboration that exists across the campus. I look forward to continuing to support the mission of UOG through my service as a Professor and Director Emerita.

Mary Spencer, Ph.D. Dean Emerita

1. ACADEMIC CONTRIBUTIONS:

A. Publications

During 2019, I completed three major research and publication projects that have been the subject of my progress reporting for the past few years. The projects are overviewed and publication information is provided below.

1. Ulithi Atoll, Micronesia: Recalling the Past, Reaffirming the Future. Edited by Rebecca A. Stephenson and Mary L. Spencer. University of Guam Press, Mangilao, Guam.

In the final year of preparation, UOG Press had the book peer reviewed. Then, I played a major role in guiding book designers in the type setting, page design, cover design, and proofing of all text and photo placements and qualities. Dr. Stephenson and I completed arrangements regarding scores of details with the UOG Press and Graphic Center for production of the book. I worked closely with UOG Press Director, Victoria Lola Leon Guerrero, CLASS Dean James Sellmann, and CLASS staff, on arrangements for launching the book; in coordination with Dr. Stephenson's related efforts. I joined Dr. Stephenson and Dr. Kurashina's efforts to raise funds to support publication. We launched the book at a major public event at UOG on September 18, 2019. Dr. Stephenson and I were interviewed by multiple news agencies about the publication and the launch event. At the time of launch we also sent a box of the books to the Director of the Yap State Department of Education, Pam Legdesog. She has since communicated to us that the book has had a very positive reception by the State's curriculum writers and educators. Publication costs were shared equally by myself and Dr. Stephenson. I have directed UOG Press to retain my share of proceeds from book sales in order to benefit the UOG Press. A brief synopsis of the book is shown below:

Ulithi Atoll, Micronesia: Recalling the Past, Reaffirming the Future (247 pages). My contributions consisted of co-writing, as first author, an introductory chapter that included an historical review (with Drs. Rebecca Stephenson and Wakako Higuchi): Historical Overview and Introduction; my chapter on child development in Ulithi and other outer islands of Yap: Glimpses of Ulithian and Other Yap Outer Island Learning Traditions for Children; and the Afterword, in which the use of photographs in the book was discussed. I copy edited and assisted in the handling of photographs for all chapters, and co-coordinated with Dr. Stephenson the review and polishing of all chapter contributions by 11 authors, and assisted in planning book design and publishing.

2. Pacific Youth: Local and Global Futures (2019, Edited by Helen Lee. Published by Australian National University Press.) I developed my chapter in association with my participation in a committee of the Association for Social Anthropology in Oceania (ASAO): Understanding Childhood in the Micronesian Diaspora by Linking Home Island Lives to Post-Migration Experiences. During 2018 I made final revisions requested by Dr. Helen Lee of Latrobe University, who is the overall editor and submitted photographs to be included in the chapter (<https://press.anu.edu.au/publications/series/pacific/pacific-youth>). Available at JSTORE.
3. Child Development in Micronesia and the US Micronesian Migration Diaspora: Through the Lens of Bronfenbrenner's Theoretical Structures. In this article I examined the tenets and applications of Urie Bronfenbrenner's theory relative to child development and family life in Micronesia and the Micronesian migration diaspora. It was published in the peer reviewed journal Pacific Asia Inquiry, Volume 10. I propose that Bronfenbrenner's theoretical propositions may provide an appropriate and unifying structure for considering existing research, and planning new research, with the children and families of Micronesia. I explain how both the Micronesian home communities and the diaspora communities could be included. This paper benefited from the editing suggestions of members of the Asian Caucus of the Society for Research on Child Development (SRCD), of which I am a member.
4. Chasing the Green Pagoda and Bridge Fan Vase – and a Little History. I wrote this invited article for the quarterly bulletin of an art collectors' group. I am a member of the Noritake Collectors' Society, which studies and collects antique porcelain made by the Japanese company, Noritake. At the invitation of the editor, I wrote about and provided photographs of a particular vase form that was created in multiple colors and hand painted designs approximately 100 years ago. I provided historical notes and architectural examples of the key design elements of the vases; i.e., pagodas and bridges.

B. Teaching

1. Guest lecture, September 19, 2019: Undergraduate Sociology seminar, Instructor, Dr. Ann Ames. Title of Mary Spencer's presentation: Research questions and methods regarding the migration of FSM and other Micronesian migrants to Guam and the US.

2. Graduate studies mentoring for Nico Arihood, doctoral student and teacher at Pu'u Kukui Elementary School, Wailuku, Maui, HI, intermittent throughout 2019.

2. RESEARCH AND PROFESSIONAL SCHOLARSHIP:

- A. Member, Editorial Board of Pacific Asia Inquiry, Multidisciplinary Perspectives. Reviewed PAI article submissions at Editor's request for Issue 10, and served as general resource to PAI Editor, UOG College of Liberal Arts & Social Sciences. PAI is a peer reviewed on-line journal.
- B. As a member of the Association for Social Anthropology of Oceania (ASAO), collaborated with an international team of social and anthropology scholars from diverse academic settings throughout the Pacific. I participated via internet in discussions and research in the Schools in the Pacific sessions.
- C. Served on the Advisory Board of the Geo-Literacy Education in Micronesia (GEM) Program of PREL. The work is funded through the National Science Foundation, under the Advancing informal Stem Learning Program.

3. SERVICE:

A. Professional Service to the University

- 1) Promotion of UOG journals (Pacific Asia Inquiry; Micronesian Educator), and UOG Press books, primarily through informal interactions with scholars via internet or personal meetings.
- 2) Provided reviews of articles submitted to journal being edited by Dr. Yukiko Inoue Smith, University of Guam, School of Education.

B. Professional and Other Service to the Community

- 1) Provided free research-based consultation to the Wailuku, Maui chapter of the Big Brothers Big Sisters organization on Micronesian cultural, child development, and family matters.
- 2) Provided additional gratis consultation and materials to the Principal, English Language Learning Specialist, and other staff of Pu'u Kukui Elementary School in Maui, in collaboration with a committee of Micronesian community representatives.
- 3) Served as Treasurer of the non-profit organization, Maui Lani Neighbors. The organization encourages effective public planning and action relative to the community's well being, and the prevention of violation of land use and environmental protection laws.
- 4) Sent a letter to Senator Tina Muña Barnes in support of GVB funds in the interest of CHamoru history and culture programs and the dissemination of regional research and documentation via UOG Press.

- 5) Member of the Book Advisory Committee for the book edited by Professor Yukiko Inoue-Smith, School of Education: Faculty Roles and Changing Expectations in the New Age.

4. PHILANTHROPY:

A. To UOG

- 1) Provided financial contributions to the Micronesian Studies Master of Arts Program for scholarships, and to the UOG Press.

B. To other community organizations

Financial contributions to:

- 1) The Kingman Carnegie Library, Kingman, Kansas to support literacy; in memory of my grandparents, Mary Ellen and Harland Baker;
- 2) Wichita Art Museum, Wichita, Kansas, in memory of my sister, Sharon Spencer;
- 3) Big Brothers Big Sisters organization, Wichita, Kansas, in honor of Lillie Mae Crain, an important mentor to me throughout my childhood;
- 4) The National Organization for Women;
- 5) Salvation Army, Maui;
- 6) Habele Outer Island Education Fund, a charitable organization created and run by former Peace Corps members with experience in the outer islands of Micronesia. The Fund provides scholarships to outer island students;
- 7) The National Museum of Women's Art;
- 8) Ms Feminist Majority Foundation;
- 9) Contributions to political candidates at the national, Guam Territory, Hawaii State, and Maui Island levels who support women, diversity, education, and economic opportunity.

SERVICE:

During the 2019-year, community services were continued with the Hawaii United Okinawa Association (HUOA) and the Okinawan Genealogical Society of Hawaii (OGSH). These services included:

1. Supporting HUOA's fund-raising activities and celebrating the opening of the Okinawa Business Plaza, a financial project designed to support the Okinawan Center and its 52-member associations in implementing its goals and functions.
2. Continuing with research, advising, and educating individuals interested in family genealogy search. Our seven-member research team had the opportunity to work on 40 cases ranging from simple family immigrants to grandparents in Okinawa to more complex family situations involving entire clans (Monchus) and connections to royalty families.
3. Conducting genealogical outreach activities at the annual Okinawan Festival held in September of each year. OGSH established an exhibit and a genealogical service booth for visitors to the Festival. Visitors came from Oahu and our neighbor islands as well as from the United States, and Okinawans from Japan and South America. Our research team worked along side with a team from the Okinawan Prefectural Library's genealogy department. A "serendipitous" experience at this Festival was when an Okinawan male in his early 20s from Peru came searching for his family roots in Hawaii. As we were interviewing Ashe, a pianist/composer, he was joined by another Okinawan male in his 30s (a singer) also looking for more information on his relatives in Hawaii. John was from Brazil. As the two men began sharing information – names and relatives and their family crests – we all realized they were related. A coincidence? Ashe from Peru and John from Brazil, meeting at a festival in Honolulu, and at a genealogy service booth!

Helen J.S. Whippy, Ph.D.

Emerita Vice President

Since I only officially retired from Chaminade University on June 30, 2019, this is my first year as a SEPRS member. My thanks to the University of Guam President and Board of Regents for the honor of being awarded Vice President Emerita status.

Academic Activity

- Served as a member of the Program Steering Committee for the U54 Cancer Grant.
- Served as a member of the Core Coordinating Committee for the (NIH funded) GMaP (Geographical Management of cancer health disparities Program) grant. It was again funded for another year.
- Served as a mentor for future administrators through CIC.
- Mentored ESIs (Early Stage Investigators) through NIH.
- For the first six months of 2019, I was the Provost at Chaminade University of Honolulu. As such, I led the reaccreditation activities and hosted a WSCUC visit, resulting in 8 years of accreditation.

Philanthropy and Service

- Supported scholarships at the University of Guam for soccer players, with the original scholarship named for my late husband.
- Supported scholarships at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.
- Contributions and volunteer work at hospice.

Honors and Awards

- Awarded Vice President Emerita, University of Guam
- Awarded Professor Emerita of Mathematics, Chaminade University of Honolulu
- Nominated and was invited to join the Registry. Became a member in late 2019. The Registry is an organization that screens and place interim positions at the provost and president level. Membership by invitation only.
- Elected by the presidents of regional institutions to represent the Pacific Region as a member of the WSCUC Commission, our regional accrediting body.
- Chaired accreditation team visits to two regional institutions, and provided recommendations on actions to the Commission.
- Spoke at a ceremony inducting my late husband into the UOG Athletics Hall of Fame.

Life Long Learning Activities

- Visited Grand Teton National Park and Yosemite, under the guidance of two naturalists I learned a lot about wildlife, conservation, and the great caldera.

- Participated enthusiastically in an educational trip to the Amazon River Basin on a riverboat, including excursions and jungle walks. Learned about the history and geology of this vast region and continued my learning about conservation, indigenous tribes, and unique flora and fauna. It was awesome!
- Visited the Florida Everglades Miami and Key West, again with a focus on conservation and indigenous people.
