LEROY HEITZ

I am writing a short e-book on my father's exploits in the Pacific during World War II. This project has involved digitizing and restoring old photographs my father had taken during his time in the Pacific and extensive research into the activities of the units in which he served. He was in Fiji, Guadalcanal, Bougainville, New Georgia, and the Philippines, but never on Guam. This project was mostly for family documentation and turned out to be interesting, enjoyable, and very much a learning experience for me. Learning to format an e-book turned out to be quite a challenging task.

RESEARCH AND PROFESSIONAL SCHOLARSHIP

DONALD E. (GENE) BRUCE

1. During the summer of 2011, my wife and I spent a month touring Central Europe and a part of Russia. We ended our trip in St. Petersburg, where we spent time in The Hermitage, Russia's national art gallery. We have found that such experiences add to the credibility we have as members of the Academy of Lifelong Learning at Lone Star College, Montgomery, and among a Great Decisions group which gathers monthly to discuss foreign polity. It is not uncommon for us to be recognized for the experiences we have accumulated while living in exotic Guam and traveling extensively abroad.
2. I continue to participate in seminars and classes for senior citizens at the local community college. I try to remain informed and involved in current political and world news and activities, encouraged to do so by these classes which offer many opportunities for exploration of new ideas, as well as challenges to contribute to everyone's intellectual well-being.

CLAY CARLSON

1. Work with two graduate students in Bergen, Norway. One working (& finishing) her Masters on shelled Haminoeidae & the other starting her PhD on one group of Aglajidae. [Opisthobranch Molluscs]
2. U of Tuebingen (Germany)re Gastropteridae (Opisthobranch molluscs)
3. Furnishing graphic material for Guam Sacoglossa to group at Cal State U. [relative to Opisthobranch chapter in Micronesica 35, 2003]

LEROY HEITZ

1. I was part of a research team on a project funded by The US Geological Survey. This project developed a Geographic Information System (GIS) for the water supply system for the Island of Saipan. In August 2011, I visited Saipan, along with Dr. Khosrowpanah of WERI, to install GIS software and provide training to our Saipan counterparts at the Commonwealth Utility Corporation.

LEROY HEITZ

2. I was co-investigator with Dr. Khosrowpanah of WERI on a research project funded by The US Geological Survey in which we evaluated the hydroelectric potential of various streams on the island of Kosrae. In August 2011, I made a field trip to Kosrae to verify the stream gage locations that were used in the study. I submitted a draft technical completion report for this project to WERI for publication. That publication is presently in press.

3. I am co-investigator with Dr. Khosrowpanah of WERI, University of Guam on a proposal being submitted for funding by the US Geological Survey. This project will develop a computerize water system model for the Island of Weno in Chuuk State,

FSM. This project will also involve the development of a GIS database of the water system components.

4. I have developed three iPhone/iPad applications for determining energy losses in water system piping systems. These Applications should be available on the Apple on-line store soon.

LOURDES P. KLITZKIE

1. Continued to gather data for the historical perspective of the University of Guam from 1952-1960. I interviewed former students from Ohio State University.

2. Presented a paper entitled, “Educating Disabled Populations: From Isolation, Segregation and Mainstreaming to Full Inclusion, A Historical Perspective”, at the Twelfth Biennial Conference of Special Education in Windhoek, Namibia July 11, 2011.

HIRO KURASHINA

Still serving the community as a Civil Air Patrol squadron staff officer and flight crew member. I turned 84 last year, but remain healthy enough to have run the 5K at Indiana University's Mini Marathon/5K event last year and recover sufficiently to aspire to go the distance again this year. And I placed first in my category. Happily, thanks to my stint at UOG, I retain email/phone contact with a number of my former students whose achievements in life I continue to enjoy.

OTHER CONTACTS

Hello Bob, Got your memo about reporting professional activities for the past year. Since I have none to report, the format isn't crucial for this. I would like to be reporting many interesting and possibly important activities, but my time and efforts seem to have been Shanghaied by health issues which I won't go into as they are not interesting, even to me.

Anyway, I wish you and Cynthia and all my former colleagues at UOG the best of the best for 2012. I hope the University continues to flourish and that it remains a force for positive change in the lives of the people of Guam and the Western Pacific. Thanks for keeping me informed of activities of the Emeriti, and please tell Cathleen Moore-Linn that I think she is doing an outstanding job of keeping the world informed of what's going on at UOG. Thanks again for all you do and have done to make life more beautiful for the rest of us.

Kathy Owings

Our annual report is of a more personal nature than scholarly.

Health issues and a need to be proactive rather than have to act in a panic in the future has prompted us to sell our home and find a nice Independent Living/Assisted Living facility as our next adventure. Russ felt he will probably stop driving in the near future and trying to live in our current home without driving just doesn't work. We have been very fortunate in finding our new home, a two bedroom apartment with restaurant dining, lots of captivities and a very liberal transportation perk. We are really pleased.

Now we are in the process of packing up all our belongings, deciding which to keep and which to go to family and which to give away. After 62 years of marriage we have accumulated so much "stuff". Some of my things include wedding gifts of my grandmother (1892). So far Russ and I have been able to do all our own packing. We decided our Valentine gift to each other today would be to not pack!

Our best wishes to everyone. I truly miss you all. Our best wishes to the University of Guam during this wonderful anniversary year.

Russ And Gloria Peckens
